

Fleet Management Consultancy

Most organisations operating in development or humanitarian environments are dependent on vehicles for delivering core services. It can be shown that if insufficient specialist resources are allocated to Fleet Management, there will be a negative impact on costs and safety. Lodi estimate that up to $2000 per vehicle p.a can be saved by the adoption of a professional Fleet Management programme and high quality vehicle maintenance procedures.

Fleet Assessment

Employing teams of experienced fleet management and automotive specialists and using a strict assessment process, Lodi Services will provide a detailed analysis of current fleet operations, identify problems and provide realistic solutions and achievable targets. During the assessment Lodi will:

- Carry out a hands-on inspection of vehicles, equipment, facilities and records
- Meet with and interview key operational staff
- Establish fleet costs and standards of fleet management
- Recommend actions necessary to achieve quantifiable and measurable benefits

To achieve consistency, fleet consultants follow a strict process of assessment developed by Lodi and outlined in our assessment manual.

The process is designed to ensure that the time allocated to the assessment is used effectively and that the maximum amount of relevant high quality data and information is collected.

Depending on the client's Statement of Requirement or the objectives agreed, Lodi's report will include a summary of actions required and the means of implementation to achieve quantifiable improvements in Fleet Management. These can cover:

- Fleet Management Systems, data collection and data management
- Vehicle reliability and vehicle downtime
- Spare parts inventory management
- Technician and driver skills and training needs
- Safety - accident monitoring and control
- Cost of Ownership - repairs and maintenance, fuel, insurance
